To Whom it May Concern:

It has come to my attention that Emergent Solar Energy is seeking to develop a solar project for your farm. On behalf of Hometown Hog Feed and the Resler Farm, I would like to offer my recommendation for Emergent Solar Energy and its owner, Jeremy Lipinski, for the exceptional work performed on our 155kW solar project for our 7000-head hog operation in Wakarusa Indiana.

Emergent Solar Energy designed and built our solar project with the highest level of workmanship, attention to detail and quality, along with a focus on professionalism. Their work included all facets of this large and challenging agricultural solar energy project from engineering, permitting, construction and ongoing operations and maintenance. This work was performed on-time and under budget in less-than-optimal weather and site conditions. In addition to their quality of construction, the solar project has performed as promised and we are seeing compelling economic returns. Under Jeremy's advice and guidance, our project received a USDA REAP grant, and we were able to eliminate certain line items on our electric bill that further increased our savings.

It was a pleasure to work with Emergent Solar Energy and their performance on our project was such to receive my highest recommendation based our experience with their demonstrated craftsmanship, execution, and trustworthy character.

Sincerely,

Kraig Resler
